Our Views on HR

Atomi strongly believes in investing and grooming young talents by hiring and offering internship opportunities to student of all discipline. We ensure all hires and interns rotate through different functions such as sales, marketing and operations so that they can learn through OJT trainings.

Student's Feedback

"I was in an environment that encourages and empowers interns to voice our opinions, suggestions and implement changes quickly as we have direct involvement and influence on how things are carried out. With this freedom and flexibility, I was able to develop and broaden my skillset and meaningfully contribute to the business." Ng Ye Li, NUS Business Student

Collaborations with IHLs

Atomi has been actively participating in various career fairs to offer internship experience and mentorship to the undergraduates. Since 2011, we have mentored students from NUS and NTU across different faculty such as engineering, business, design, science and law.
