

Autium

About us

Autium is a jewellery company that has evolved from precious metals inventions, watch making and production of jewellery alloys to various watch, jewellery and electronics companies globally. They have a portfolio of patented materials such as 18kt black gold, blue gold and notably their feat in creating 19kt Purple Gold. Since, they have explored the merging of Science & Arts in the jewellery design field. Most recently won a Design Singapore Award for Jewellery collaboration of design on the theme of "COSMIC ONE- NESS" They offer customers an intimate experience in jewellery making and participation, with a myriad materials and gemstones, such as Platinum & colours of gold to create custom pieces with their customers with a their own story, their way.

Our Views on HR

FROM GOOD TO GREAT!

"We believe in growth of an individual. We also believe that the new age management is about each person (molecule) having its own characteristics, mixing and melding into an alchemical masterpiece. "

Our training involves soft skills, spiritual skills in a person and growth from within. Basic training on jewellery processes etc. is available but that's not the point.

1. Creativity, First-hand experience in materials and realisation.
2. You will not be compartmentalised. You will be trusted like a family member and learn to grow into something else.
3. Co- creation with customers and staff. We collaborate to bring the best of our brand values for the world.
4. transparency of how we deal with things

Student's Feedback

Students who worked with us felt that they learnt a lot about different aspects of the jewellery business.

Collaborations with IHLs

SUTD, NTU and NAFA also private institutes such as Raffles Design Institute are our frequent highlights. We include them in training and for future hires.