

About Us

Poh Heng Jewellery is a well-known jewellery chain store in Singapore and has seen generations of customers and employees grow with her through 72 years of business. Catering to the affordable luxury consumer market, we seek to continuously expand our customer and employee base, always pushing boundaries and setting the highest gold standard in our products, service and values alike.

Our Views About HR & Talent

Poh Heng aspires towards diversifying her talent pool even though jewellery is a highly specialised genre. We believe that the only way to enable sustainability in this industry is through our unified efforts on challenging the status quo and emphasis on developing available talent into inspirations for the following generations to come.

Students' Feedback

The internship is fruitful and I learned practical skills that I can eventually apply when I embark on my career in future.

Collaborations with IHLs

As Poh Heng progresses on her journey, we seek to embark on several programmes with various Institutes of Higher Learning (IHLs) to attract passionate and enterprising individuals to be a part of this great legacy.
